Session 199: Thoughts have power

Summary: Agreement is the joining of energy. When man takes thoughts, takes his energy, the uncreated energy, and creates mental images, thoughts, and projects them out, then these thoughts have the power to create. To Create down the chain of command with a lesser degree, because that thought, before it can be operable must pass through man. When you have created something with a thought, one could say that it remains dormant, within until it is stimulated by the consciousness. In other words, the thought, in one sense, has a certain amount of power.
